Judge Moran to retire

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Illinois Fifth District Appellate Court Judge George Moran Sr. of Glen Carbon, a longtime former Granite City resident, told the Press-Record Thursday afternoon he will retire from the bench at the Court bench at Mount Vernon Sept. 3.

Judge Moran was born in East St. Louis in 1913 and moved as a small child to Michigan. His father, a roadmaster for a railroad, died in a World War I flu epidemic when Judge Moran was only 10 years old.

"My mother, the most loved all in my family, brought seven children back to Granite City, opened a grocery store in East Granite City and supported the whole family by running the small store," Moran's Grocery Store, 2433 E. 24th St., the judge recalled.

He graduated in 1931 from Granite City High School and attended St. Louis University before entering George Washington University Law School in Washington, D.C., where he graduated in 1938.

Within a year, he began practicing law on his own in Granite City until he entered the Navy during World War II. He served in the South Pacific and completed his tour as an admiral.

He then returned to private law practice here. He had several law partners from time to time, but said he mostly had only his own practice until William Beatty joined the practice about 1950, Judge Moran said. "We became very close friends as well as partners," Moran said of Beatty.

In 1964, without experience as a judge, Moran became the Democratic nominee for Appellate Judge and was elected.

"I had never been a judge, but I felt I deserved confidence in me and I felt qualified because I had extensive experience and practice in many kinds of cases, including cases before the Illinois and U.S. Supreme Courts," he recalled.

Among the "landmark" decisions Moran, an attorney, was involved in, the U.S. Supreme Court which established that workers on barges are entitled to the same protection as seamen on seagoing vessels. This case resulted from an injury during construction of the Chain of Rocks Canal and was won by the Supreme Court in 1962. That decision stands, Judge Moran said, noting large barges were placed under the protection of the Jones Act as a result of that verdict.

Another major case in which Moran represented the winner was Kenney vs. Shell Oil Co., which established the constitutionality of the Illinois Structural Work Act (known as the Scaffolding Act). The act entitles construction workers to a safe place in which to work.

"There were only two of the types of cases I handled as an attorney. When I was appointed a judge, I had written so many briefs and handled so much litigation, perhaps I could see some of the problems much quicker than other attorneys or judges. I have always believed people are entitled to a fair trial and that has always been my guiding philosophy."

Reflecting on the people who surrounded him in his many years as a judge, Moran said he particularly wanted to thank his sister-in-law, Mary Rogan, who agreed to help him out during a secretary's absence in 1954 and has worked for him as his secretary ever since.

He also recalled that prominent attorney William Brandt was his first law clerk when Moran became a judge.

Although Judge Moran's "roots" are in the Quad-City area, he purchased a home about 10 months ago in Glen Carbon and will reside there, while working in Granite City. He will work part-time with one of his former law partners, William Schooley.

Moran married his mother Cecilia Moran in Venice 30 years ago and the couple has two surviving children.

George Moran Jr. is now an associate judge in the Third Judicial Circuit of

Carters to arrive on Delta Queen

President and Mrs. Jimmy Carter will arrive in St. Louis Friday, Aug. 24, after a seven-day trip down the Mississippi River aboard the Delta Queen, in what is being termed by the White House as a week of politics and fun.

The Carters are paying about $900 each for the trip and Amy Carter, 11, is free. As a child, Carter and Secret Service agents are accompanying the presidential party, as is a small press corps.

The Carters will board the Delta Queen at St. Paul, Minn., Friday, Aug. 17. Stops enroute to St. Louis include Prairie Du Chien, Wis., Davenport and Burlington in Iowa, and Hannibal, Mo.

Reynolds and Anderson are expected to ashore at each stop to urge public support for the president's energy program, according to Press Secretary Jody Powell.

None of the passengers who have reservations on the Delta Queen will be "bumped" by the presidential party and everything will operate as normally as possible, Powell said. The Delta Queen holds about 188 passengers.

Jewelry, guns taken by thief

Wilson Schwager, 53, Jandy Lane reported at 9:40 p.m. Saturday the theft from his home of a ladies dinner ring, containing nine diamonds and valued at $300, and a white gold wedding band, worth $300.

Also stolen were a 12-gauge Belgium Browning shotgun, $200, and a 10-gauge double barrel Griner hammerless shotgun, worth $200.

Gardenaires' 25th year

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

From a modest beginning as a neighborhood gardening club a quarter century ago, the Granite City Gardenaires has evolved into a community-wide service group whose projects have beautified the area and delighted and enlightened many who reside here.

To commemorate the 25th year since the Gardenaires was formed, the club celebrated Thursday afternoon with a silver anniversary tea.

The gala event took place, appropriately enough, in the Garden Room at Central Christian Church.

As befitting the occasion, the tea table was appointed with a large bowl of fresh cut roses. The room also was decorated with roses whose delicate fragrance permeated the entire room.

The rose is the Gardenaires' flower symbol.

Mrs. John Farrell and Mrs. Mary Kristian, club members, created the floral arrangements, using roses from the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ends.

Three charter members of the organization still active participants in the club are Mrs. Charles Kohl, Mrs. Abe Sherman and Mrs. C. E. Ends.

A fourth charter member, Mrs. Marvin Boyer, also attended the tea.

Special recognition was accorded to the four women and to all past presidents and founders of the club who were present as guests.

"Among the guests were representatives of 17 federated garden clubs that comprise District V of the Garden Club of Illinois."

Mrs. Robert K. Hinz, the current president, welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Leo Schank, vice president, introduced Mrs. John Gordon, who presented a copy of the book, "A Woman of Quality - Eleanor Roosevelt," by Stella K. Hershan.

Mrs. Schank also presented a certificate the club has received from the National Council of State Garden Clubs for a contribution made by members to the permanent home in observance of the Gardenaires' 25th anniversary.

The club name will be engraved on the "Silver Box" on display at their permanent headquarters, located in Shaw's Garden, St. Louis.

The Gardenaires started in the fall of 1954, when Mrs. John Tracy and Mrs. Charles Kohl invited four other women from the Bellemore area to meet with them to hear plans for organizing a neighborhood garden club.

Invited to the initial meeting were Mrs. J. P. Cox, Mrs. Marvin Boyer, Mrs. John Boyer and Mrs. Eugene Miller.

Within a two-week period, the original six were joined by four more women, Mrs. Josephine M. Mrs. Abe Sherman, Mrs. C. E. Ends and Mrs. Abel Valencia.

The group of 10 women, who comprise the Gardenaires' charter members, then met at the home of Mrs. Kohl to elect Mrs. John Tracy as the club's first president, and Mrs. Kohl as vice president.

In March 1956, the club was accepted into District V of the Garden Clubs of America and also became affiliated with the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc.

Monthly meetings were held in the members' homes and such a schedule is followed today.

Membership is limited and is by invitation only.

The club motto, "Gardening Is A Way of Life," has set the pattern for the club programs and activities throughout the years.

Special emphasis has always been placed on horticulture and conservation.

Over the years, the members have awarded six full scholarships to scholars trips to area high school students to attend special conservation schools and workshops held each summer at various state universities.

The Gardenaires has a long history of local civic contributions.

During the group's early years, members planted and cared for flower plantings at the former Madison Nursing Home, now the All American Club, downtown Granite City beautification program.

The club purchased and donated a number of special specimen trees to the Granite City Parks Department.

Mrs. Kohl also established a tree nursery from which many trees were planted at Granite City schools by individual Boy Scout troops.

In observance of the nation's bicentennial celebration, the club joined with other area garden clubs to create a pleasing entrance to the Madison County Bicycle and Nature Trail located in the Potters Beach area.

A Blue Star Memorial Marker also was placed by the club at the south entrance to the Southern Illinois University campus at Edwardsville.

For the last eight years, the Gardenaires has been responsible for decorating the main floor and foyer at the Granite City Public Library for the Christmas holiday season, an effort that has drawn many accolades from the library staff and public.

Members originated and pioneered the concept of Mini Garden Centers and received a national award for the Mini Garden Center it maintains at the public library in downtown Granite City.

The Gardenaires has not confined its efforts solely to the library.

Several years ago the club promoted a world gardening project that included shipping thousands of packets of seeds to Belm, Brazil.

The seeds were distributed to school children for their families to plant vegetable gardens and thereby supplement the meager diets of the people.

In the ensuing years the club has made special contributions to the CARE for the purchase of seeds and farming tools to help disadvantaged families.

At Thursday's tea, invited guests included members of the Thorngate Garden Club of Granite City.

Also present were Misses Jill and Julie Donley representing the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club of Granite City.

District officers attending were Mrs. Arthur Busch, director, and Mrs. Harold Wolfe, parliamentarian, both of Belleville; Mrs. William Lindsey, vice chairman, Cahokia and Mrs. Kenneth Holbert, corresponding secretary, Collinsville.

A letter was read from Mrs. John Tracy, one of the club's founders, who now lives in California.

Mrs. J. Patrick Busch, Mrs. G. Glenn and Mrs. John Goldsasch also were among the 49 women present.

At one side of the Garden Room was a special display of the Gardenaires' yearbooks from each of the past 25 years, together with several copies of the club has served over the two-and-a-half decades it has existed.

The display was arranged by Mrs. A. M. Altomatti.

Music throughout the afternoon was provided by Margaret Hahn Lyle, Mrs. Alex Tarpoff was general chairman of the silver anniversary tea, assisted by Mrs. Richard Kerch as co-chairman.

Other members of the Gardenaires not previously mentioned are Mrs. William Long, Mrs. Roy Hormann and Mrs. Jerry Arbiter.

The Gardenaires will hold a joint meeting with the Garden Study Club at 10 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 6, at the Niedringhaus Recreation Center, Mrs. Hintz announced.

silver anniversary tea, assisted by Mrs. Rena Waters, 89, and her husband, Theodore P. Waters, died in August 1975 and she also was preceded in death by her brother, Ray Client.

Vacation Bible School is fun for kids

. . . and they learn things too

Where can you go to make a friend, have some fun, and learn about Jesus? For the little ones, vacation Bible school is one place where they can go to do all three.

Every summer most of the churches in the area offer some sort of vacation Bible school for the kids. Among those to do so this year, three of the downtown churches got together and put on quite a program for the youngsters of the three congregations.

The two week session was held at St. Peter's Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2103 Cleveland Blvd. Also involved in the program were First United Presbyterian Church and Niedringhaus United Methodist.

The morning's activities began with singing and a short sermon. The pastors of the three churches rotated. The message was simple and non-denominational in nature.

All of the Bible School goers attended the services, and the singing of simple songs brought much joy into the sanctuary of the church. The songs were full of happiness and movement, with the children being encouraged to clap, stomp, stand up and sit down as Linda Watson directed the morning song. Everybody sang, from the little three-year-olds to the pastors.

The pastor who was afterwards by the pastor involved child participation as they were asked questions about Jesus. Small voices filled the room as the younger ones called out their answers, delighted to be allowed to speak out where normally they are silent.

Then it was off to the classrooms for lessons and fun, with the emphasis on the little ones, learning a new thing about himself and his relationship with God can be fun. If it is shown to him in the right way, it can be a lesson he will remember.

The teachers and helpers who worked at vacation Bible School had just that thought in mind as they worked with the little ones.

Each grade in the class included a picture of each individual child, his fingerprint, his birthday, his size and his favorite color. It carried the thought that God made him unique. As the child completed the picture, he was taught that although God made all children, each one was unique, with things about him that were his own. To the very young children, it was quite a large lesson.

The older children in other classrooms also had craft projects. There was a lesson learned with each project and something to take home and show Mom and Dad. And it was fun.

Kids around town were among some of the things that the kids got to do. A trip to one of the downtown banks meant helium filled balloons for all. The church hall sprung into color as the young ones entered, their voices bouncing merrily over their heads.

The two and three year olds played a lot in one of the church nurseries. Even in their play the little ones were happy. The sheer sense of feeling in the room was one of happiness as the teacher and helpers played with the children, something that many parents do not do. The young ones that church is a happy place.

For those youngsters who had never attended a vacation Bible school, the experience was most pleasant. It was good for those who depended heavily on that, as the kids were from three different churches, there were lots of new friends to be made.

The Lighter Side

Trash cans a modern household problem—they are always full

Round ones, fat ones, short ones, skinny ones. They are all over the house and they are always full. Contemplate with me, if you will, the trash can.

You could have a trash can in every room in the house and they would still be half full. What really puzzles me is the fact that they are full of stuff from all of the other rooms.

Nothing makes my blood boil like finding an apple core or banana peel in the bedroom trash receptacle. Food should be restricted to kitchens, period.

And I wish someone would tell me why the little swinging tops on the fancier trash cans are built so that when you open them after the can is half full.

Why, pray tell, do trash cans sink down into the can or they are so big that they touch the floor?

And why is it that you make kitchen trash cans just tall enough so that your dog can easily tip it over? That is one of the mysteries of life.

They sell you trash cans, then they sell you little bags for trash. Let's face it, some engineer out there who can design something to make all of this purchasing unnecessary?

I went to the trash master route one time. Never again! On the way home, I had to empty them as often, but believe me, those little cans of deodorizer sell them you do not work.

And can someone please tell me how a 105 pound woman is supposed to get rid of the outside trash can on the street on pick-up day?

I don't dare put a full plastic trash bag outside, not in my neighborhood. There are at least 9,000,000 dogs, all of whom must be half crazed with hunger, just waiting for trash bags to hit the back porch.

There is, in my humble opinion, simply too much stuff to throw away. Perhaps it is not the fault of the lowly trash can that it is so inefficient.

Maybe someone could find a way to eliminate the trash can altogether. We could get rid of all packaging or invent packaging materials that don't decompose.

Of course that idea would put all of the people who make trash cans out of work.

Then people would quit buying trash can liners and more people would be laid off. And the world would quit buying anything and the world would be thrown into depression.

I guess you and I are stuck with the trash cans.

HOMES LOOTED

Between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday in the home of Claude Bibrey Sr., 638 Lincoln Ave., Venice, was entered and the home looted. Among the items taken were: $350 cash, 25-inch RCA color television, 19-inch black and white television, portable television, digital clock, portable radio, a grey suit, a steel box with personal papers, beads, $200 worth of frozen meat, pink and white ceramic dishes, instamatic camera and two gold candle holders.

ARREST ON WARRANT

Police were called to the 1600 block of Olive Street at 3:20 p.m. Saturday on a report of a man and a woman arguing while the man held a board. When police arrived, they alleged finding a man who was wanted in Kane County, Ill. Daniel Lee Owen, 29, of the 2600 block of Main Street (formerly Route 3) was held on a warrant alleging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

BAC enrollment may increase

Fall enrollment figures at Belleville Area College may increase, according to officials at the college.

"Truthfully, with the increasing cost of commuting, we had thought that enrollment here would be adversely affected," BAC information director Doris Slocum said.

She reported that enrollment to date, however, is "holding its own" with last year figures. "Admittedly our efforts to help students at Madison High School, anyone who lives in District 522 (Belleville Area College's District) may enroll for credits anywhere in the district."

Registration for both credit and non-credit courses at Granite City High School South will begin from today through Wednesday from 3 to 8 p.m.

Granite City High School registration for BAC courses also is today through Wednesday from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Registration for daytime classes will be taught in Granite City at Washington School will continue there each day from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. through Tuesday.

A native of Granite City, Manoogian received his education at the high school there and Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind. He served in the U.S. Army from 1944 to 1946.

He and his wife, the former Nola Richardson of Hayti, Mo., have twin daughters, Yvonne and Yvette, 22, and a son, Anthony 20.

Students who enroll for college credit courses in extension centers for at least six semester hours will be eligible to apply for financial assistance. (Non-transferable classes do not qualify for aid.)

Credit courses which qualify a student to apply for financial aid will be taught in extension centers at Lincoln High School and Madison High School. Anyone who lives in District 522 (Belleville Area College's District) may enroll for credits anywhere in the district."

Registration for both credit and non-credit courses at Granite City High School South will begin from today through Wednesday from 3 to 8 p.m.

Registration for daytime classes will be taught in Granite City at Washington School will continue there each day from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. through Tuesday.

USE FUNGICIDES IN HOT, HUMID WEATHER

Many fungi thrive on garden plants in hot, humid weather. Thus, gardeners should maintain preventive disease control programs on susceptible crops. Area Garden Adviser Chris Doll said today.

As a sales manager, Manoogian will be responsible for the sales and service activities of a staff of representatives.

He joined Metropolitan Life in the O'Fallon Park office in February this year.

A native of Granite City, Manoogian received his education at the high school there and Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind. He served in the U.S. Army from 1944 to 1946.

He and his wife, the former Nola Richardson of Hayti, Mo., have twin daughters, Yvonne and Yvette, 22, and a son, Anthony 20.

Some of the problem areas are mushrooms, black rot of cabbages, brown rot of peaches and plums; fruit rots of late blackberries and red raspberries; anthracnose of watermelons; mildews and leaf spots of melons and cucumbers; fruit and root diseases—tomatoes, eggplant, peppers, squash and pumpkin.

Fungicides are available to control these diseases if they are applied before infection occurs. Doll said. These include maneb, captan, benomyl, Bravo and zineb.

Press-Record photo feature by Pat Foley

The new sliding board at the Wilson Park swimming pool has attracted long lines of youngsters waiting for their turns down the slick, wet board, each with their own style. Even after just a week's use of the slide, the kids already have displayed their unique ways of slipping and sliding. Some take the easy way, head first(1). One girl was observed using a rolling technique(2) and another boy closed his eyes and felt for the water below(3). The old 'playground technique' was used by some(4), as was the 'hold the nose and pray' method(5). (Note the youngster in the background trying to help him by holding his own nose) One little girl tried to flap her arms to ease the impact(6) and another youngster used a stiffening method which appeared to hurt a bit(7). Of course, there's always one kid who looks relaxed as he waits for the smack against the water(8) and others who just make a BIG splash(9), but never show their faces. If you visit the local pool, try a couple of slides on the new board. Maybe you'll create a totally new style of slipping and sliding.

12 canoe for 6 days on Northwoods waterways

On the trail at the Northern Wisconsin National Canoe Base last week were 11 scouts from Troop Five of Granite City under the leadership of Pat Busch. The crew spent six days exploring the waterways of the Wisconsin Northwoods.

Located in the lake country of Vilas County, the canoe base is one of six national bases operated by the Boy Scouts of America to provide high adventure programs for older scouts and explorers. Specializing in canoe camping skills, the canoe base offers special training programs for selected crew members.

Selected as the crew's voyageur, Tom Dach, arrived at the base three days before the crew for an intensive training program.

The voyageur served as the crew's guide and assistant leader for the trip. Richard D. Dutcher, base director, said, "Voyageur training encourages the crew to be self-sufficient and gives them a carryover experience that can be used back home."

Troop Five chose Chuck Shew and Dave White to attend the base's environmental awareness program. Participants in this program developed increased appreciation and awareness of the northern Wisconsin environment through which they came.

During the program, the ecologists visited fish hatcheries and a test forest, and met a variety of environmental experts. After three days, they turned from students into ecology leaders with their own crews.

Crew members were Alan Forbes, Bruce Holt, Bob McClew, Jim Small, Eric Wilson, Joey Zinn, Nick Tsigoloff and Bob Moske.

Troop Five is sponsored by the Nameoki United Methodist Church.

Davis seeking help on surface drainage

By PETE STEHMAN
Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis mixed business with pleasure when he vacationed in Washington, D.C. in late July, and he hopes the result will be the solution of various township problems.

While in Washington with his family, Davis visited with Rep. Melvin Price and staffs of senators Alan Stevenson and Charles Percy in search of funding for projects and to let the legislators know how he felt about government programs.

"Time will tell whether I did any good with them," Davis said. "They said I'm here now."

Davis checked with the legislature and the state of Vice President Walter Mondale in an attempt to find someone to help solve personnel Nameoki Township drainage problems.

"We're just going to rot here unless we get something done," Davis said. "He gave me some drainage problems and high-water table restrict retail and industrial growth in the township."

Most of the politicians' staffs told Davis they knew nothing about the surface drainage improvements could be funded, but promised to check nonetheless.

A few days after he returned to work, Davis was contacted by Environmental Protection Agency officials from Chicago requesting information on specific problems.

Davis said he was let down to find there was no funding readily available for township problems. He cited millions being spent on improvements to the gateway Arch area by the Jefferson National Expansion instead of addressing "real concerns." "Their priorities stink, as far as I'm concerned."

The supervisor said he felt it was most beneficial contacting the lawmakers on their home turf. He would speak with Price for 1½ hours in his office. "I see Cong. Price once in a while around here, but he doesn't really have time to talk with me then," he commented.

Davis also let the legislators know of programs such as revenue sharing, community development and the Comprehensive Employment Training act, all of which are township participants in.

"I let them know what a great benefit we are getting out of those programs, despite what they may have heard."

The supervisor hopes the contacts will lead to good things for the township. "I touched first base," Davis said. "Now I'm going to keep pushing."

3 passengers are injured

Three passengers were injured when the cars of Nadine Davis, 1144 Rhodes St., and Robert Ezell, 2164 Cleveland Blvd., collided at 25th and Adams streets last week.

All the injured were passengers in Ezell's auto and were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Gina Salvati, 13, Anaheim, Calif., suffered pain in her right arm and was released after X-rays were taken.

Maria Salvati, 7 months old, was checked and released after no apparent injuries were found.

Illinois coal essential for nation to meet its energy needs; time for U.S. to halt bureaucratic games

"Why is it that in the face of a national energy crisis with an announced national commitment to coal, we find production down? Coal is the evidence of the administration's lack of experience with the Illinois coal industry. I must conclude that it is really the federal government that is causing significant economic disruption."

The speaker was Governor James Thompson, and his target was President Jimmy Carter.

But it wasn't Big Jim's "darn the environment, full speed ahead" talk at Lincolnshire Aug. 3. It was said in a letter to the president March 29 after a series of Chicago meetings. And it also was reminiscent of 1977, when there also were federal declarations in which the rhetoric from Washington seemed to outdistance any appropriate, effective action.

Aside from partisan differences and some environmental pro and con, the main issue was how to both guarantee and banter" energy and a clean environment—it seems indisputable that Uncle Sam has been ambivalent about whether to encourage or discourage coal production and use.

In the governor's words several months ago:

1. Repeated changes in federal attitudes toward coal, resulting in confusion, unnecessary cost and a crippling of investment in new coal mines.

2. Arbitrary and unreasonable demands on states, land and resources, forcing Illinois to waste billions of dollars in federal government rather than solving energy, atmospheric and economic problems. "A compatible way to mine coal while preserving prime farmland goes unfound," Thompson comments.

3. A lack of commitment by the U. S. to its own avowed goals. For example, the repeated last-minute federal decisions to back out of joint ventures aimed at finding new ways to use coal that are environmentally acceptable and economically sound.

4. Uncending changes in regulations that hinder the development of workable state programs and add only costs and delays to the process of achieving desirable goals.

Illinois coal production has decreased 30 percent since 1970 and at least 600 miners are unemployed.

Meanwhile, Mr. Carter practices perfect gestures and a dynamic speaking delivery, goes on national television to again push for more reliance on coal, cuts "paper tape" by creating new bureaucratic agencies and boards, and then rests on his laurels.

In his controversial August proposal for a "recess" from the Air Act, Gov. Thompson called for developing the technology to convert coal into synthetic oil, "capture the sun" to get fossil gasoline-efficient coal and to "get mass transit off and running."

In fairness to Mr. Carter, it is easier for a state official to complain about a complex problem than it is for Washington to solve it.

It seems clear that if the president is to reverse the downward trend in his popularity, he is going to have to produce some positive results, and rather promptly.

It is not at all reassuring to see the Aug. 6 Department of Energy announcement that it is investigating 41 complaints, including eight in Illinois, for "unethical conduct."

The study is only preliminary, officials cautioned; they didn't talk to any state or local authorities before issuing the report, and they really want to ponder the whole subject for a long while before venturing any closer to "brass tacks" talk about when, where and whether to proceed.

The kids are fine, getting bigger every day. They want to come and see you before the summer is over and if you can manage it, will make arrangements to bring them to you on the phone.

Is Dad? I hope you are both well. How is your garden doing? Have you those huge tomatoes that you always had when I lived at home?

I hope that your trip was nice. We had no time for vacation, too busy. The house needs painting and my flower beds are a mess. Much to do. Wish I could come up to see you but it looks like I won't be able to until next year.

Baker hopes four seasons isn't too long

By KEVIN ALLEN

GRANITE CITY — Three years is a long time in high school sports. It's a period of complete turnover of personnel.

Four years is even longer.

For three years Granite City South's soccer Warriors have been state champions. In those years they will begin to try for the fourth straight year on top.

"That's a tough act to follow," South's coach Gene Baker said. "But I don't think it necessarily puts more pressure on us. A winning tradition gives us a whole."

confidence and a sense of pride."

Beginning Wednesday, Aug. 15 at 10 a.m. Baker can begin to assess the talent that will defend South's three-year title.

The beginning for such a formidable undertaking will have its ups and downs, basic, mundane, but nonetheless essential tasks.

"Mostly in the first two weeks or so we'll work on conditioning," Baker said. "After that we'll take up training skills. Then after all 15 practices we'll concentrate on the team as a whole."

That process may not be as extended as it might seem. Baker plans to run practices twice a day and maybe more often than that.

"The heat will be one of the major criteria we'll use to see how often we practice."

Along with the advantages of his past success, Baker will have on his squad four players who participated recently in the National Sports Festival in Colorado Springs, Colo. Randy DeFouw, Tony Pierot, David Ferrell and Jack Burnett all will be returning Wednesday.

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD, Monday, Aug. 13, 1979—11

DeRousse went on from the Festival to participate on the National Youth Team in a game in Los Angeles against a French national team.

Pierce, a goalie, is transferring to South from GCHS North. He is a senior.

"We've got a couple of guys injured," Baker said. "Fernandez stretched some tendons in his knee, and Cordero and David James have a broken wrist. We'll have to wait until we get started to see how serious these are."

In addition to recuperating the injured, Baker will have another group of less experienced, younger players. That's why Baker will be stressing a fundamental approach to the preseas.

"We'll go with a lot more skills and techniques training," he said. "Soccer is such a team game that balance is essential. It's important to have strong players everywhere."

Historical consideration would lead to the conclusion that Baker knows what is essential and important.

Four years is a long time.

MAC makes I-C playoffs . . .

Mitchell holds off Wood River charges

By TOM SCHOCKER
for the Press-Record

MICHELL — The Mitchell Athletic Club may not be a first place team or have the tremendous pitching and power hitters but they do have one thing—a desire to win.

The situation was this — Mitchell needed to win one if not two games against the Wood River Brewers to have any chance of making the playoffs. On Wednesday night the pressure was really on. With its back against the wall in a do or die situation, Mitchell promptly and cleanly put Wood River away. Getting a 'scare in game one' in the hills is not wise and in come from behind fashion pulled out the nightcap 43 at Mitchell Field Sunday.

"It scared me," said Head Coach Ken Crawford. "I realize there were going to lose it." Crawford had every right to express that feeling after the heart stopper Mitchell received in the opener:

With a 1-0 deficit staring at them after three-and-a-half innings, Mitchell found the key to Wood River's starting pitcher and exploded for a six run outburst. Key RBI's coming from Mike Robertson, Brian Sikes and John Fallon as the Mitchell Club sent nine to the plate while only banging out three hits, the big blow coming from Sikes with a triple. Mitchell was given three walks and a hit batsman in the fourth inning.

Well, now that you have a first team hitting machine better to do sit back and finish the game. Easier said than done as Mitchell found out.

Impressed with Sikes' pinup debut of performance (See related story) and in despite need of pitchers, Crawford started Sikes. (Sikes had pitched a few years ago.) Said Crawford, "I could get four good innings from him, it will be alright."

Four innings was just all Sikes lasted. Seemingly breezing on a three hitter through four frames and striking out five, Sikes was touched for a pair in the fifth. With one out they loaded the bases. Robertson then proceeded to record his first strike out and a force out changed Wood River's smiles into looks of disbelief. Crawford was obviously relieved that his third pitch the game out, said in a confident tone, "All we have to do now is win the next game and we're in."

It didn't long for Mitchell to figure out Wood River's pitchers. After giving them a three run lead in the fifth, the Athletic Club came back after two were out in the second with a three run escape to knot the score. The big blow came from Bob Batey on a two run single.

Starting the pitching duties, Crawford settled down after that shaky first giving Wood River just six hits while striking out four. Mitchell's problem in the winning run in the fourth here Robertson was walked with the bases loaded. Control problems struck in the fourth and Crawford pulled himself giving the position to reliever Doug Rains.

The critical spot is at running back where Mike Pappas, Curtiss, a 6-foot, 175-pounder from Chicago, finished up No. 1 and Perez, a powerful 5-foot-8, 190-pounder from Carol Stream, was right behind him.

Mike Pappas, transfer from the University of Colorado, could have supplied the power, but the 6-foot-3, 210-pound Chicagoan spent most of the spring depth problem.

I-C League split moves MAC closer to a playoff berth

By TOM SCHOCKER
for the Press-Record

MURKIN — As the season comes to a close and your club has made the playoffs by virtue of their fine record, your only concern is to finish respectable and wait. However, when your club has the need of wins to make the playoffs, your main concern is to scratch and claw for runs and possibly victories.

Unfortunately, Collingsville had also three runs of those three in the first two frames without a hit being recorded.

Opening up the gang-shock Collingsville for an early two-run lead. In the opening frame with one on and one out, Mike Robertson lifted a high fly ball to right.

But a prevalent gusty wind played tricks with the ball, tumbling to the ground allowing Robertson to scamper to third base with a triple. One out later, John Young blasted a double but when trying to touch it, was lifted out of the field.

The scoring was to stop for Mitchell, for no apparent reason. Maybe the opposing pitcher found a groove, maybe Mitchell's hitters forgot how to hit. At any rate, the Athletic Club would only manage three hits in the next five innings.

Even though Mitchell's defense ceased, their defense did not. Two outstanding defensive plays could not prevent further damage inflicted upon them by Collingsville. In the second, Rains working on his move to first base caught a Collingsville runner off balance and was clearly out, but to no avail, the umpire signaled safe. Inning three saw a diving effort by shortstop Bob Batey on a line drive knotted up the score in the second. Two outs and a runner, Batey provided the split.

Mitchell's only offense of the past was not to be in their second. A couple of perfectly laid sacrifice bunts and a double helped the Athletic Club break the game open at 5-2.

Attempting to recover, Collingsville cut into Mitchell's lead with a run in the third but that was all. Mitchell got out of the inning on a nifty double play by John Young. On a fly ball to center field, Young, upon catching it, was unable to get it under control.

Mitchell tried to make a game of it, sending nine men to the plate in the seventh, scoring four times and having the potential tying run at the plate with runners on first and third.

"The ball really hurt us," said Crawford. "We just had too little too late."

Do you think Coach Crawford believes in dejection? He probably did in the fourth and fifth putting the game away. The big hit coming with a two-run single in the third.

The game apparently over, Mitchell's starting pitcher Ken Crawford removed himself from the game, ending his career with his throwing hand.

"I got a blister on my finger in the third and I tried to get it out," said Crawford. "It just had too little too late."

As in game one, Mitchell's offense began with a pair in the first. RBI singles by Brian Sikes and Rich Schmidt capped off a three hit attack. Collingsville wasted no time knotting up the score in the second. Two outs and a runner, Batey provided the split.

With apologies to Abner Doubleday

GRANITE CITY — Good ol' Abner Doubleday might not have meant his sport of baseball to be played exactly this way, but this is how it's played in cities, towns, hamlets and villages all over the United States. It's Little League.

The game immediately in question was one of hundreds of championship games going on about this time across the land. This one involved the Bantam 1 (9-year old) teams sponsored by Lindsay Construction and Kelly Plumbing, both of Granite City.

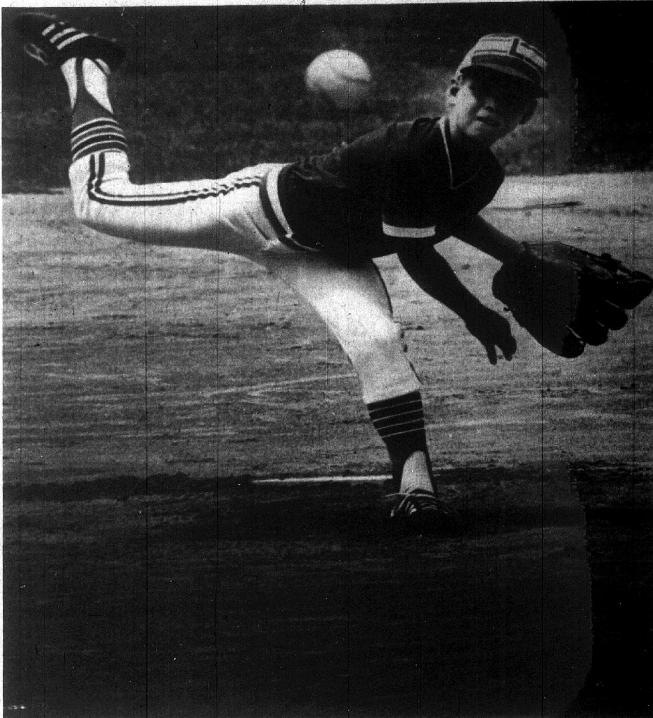

The basepaths are shorter, as is the distance between the pitchers' mound and home plate. But other than that, things are just about the same.

The game was played Thursday afternoon at Wilson Park on Diamond Number Three — a site that will be remembered by countless youngsters as the place of some of their greatest "heroic" exploits. Kelly plumbing lambasted Lindsay 13-2. There were thrills and spills — and even an argument; the kind that sometimes makes one wonder what kind of an example the adults of the world set for the kids.

As the fifth inning rolled around, so did the thunder clouds. It started to rain. Then it stopped. But the game went on. And the kids loved it. Shouts from parents of, "My child can't play in this rain!" or "He'll catch his death!" came from parents who probably let their children play outside in weather much worse.

The game was called after five innings because of a 10-run rule. Giving Kelly Plumbing the championship.

When Doubleday invented baseball over 100 years ago, little did he know what he was getting this country into.

Mitchell

Randy Poitzman bases tested predicament and promptly fanned the final out if inning. He then proceeded to strike out three of his last nine outs allowing only one run to reach base.

"We're really playing like it's 1968," Crawford said. He pointed out that the performances of Sikes, Robertson and Rains were the keys to Mitchell's success in their three victories. Mitchell's exploits, more recently, have put him in a place in the upcoming playoffs to begin next Saturday. Mitchell concluded his regular season with a 10-16 mark while Saturday's opposition was a 23-3 record. "We have to play Music Room in the first round," Crawford, "I think we can beat them. We've done it before."

Alpha Omega plans benefit

Sisters of Alpha Omega Sorority, Troy Chapter #631, met at the home of Vi Ohlemeyer last week for the monthly business meeting at which it was decided to hold a card party Sept. 27 at the American Legion Hall, Troy. The proceeds of the party will be donated to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., and Peoria.

The garage sale last week was a success according to a member Gloria Mannz, Troy, was awarded a quilt that was displayed at the sorority stand the nights of the 21st, 22nd and 23rd. Twenty-five percent of the proceeds from this craft stand will be donated to the Troy Lions Club.

A rush swimming party social is being planned for Aug. 21, at Fran Zelins' in Belleville. The next business meeting will be at Thelma Kuekers home, Troy.

OUR MARKET ANALYSIS. YOUR HOME'S VALUE BASED ON WISDOM, NOT WHIM.

Knowledge and experience. The two most important factors in pricing your home to sell, at a price that makes it worthwhile.

At CENTURY 21, we compare the location, size, condition, and improvements of your property to the price of homes recently sold, those currently for sale, and those homes that did not sell, perhaps because of inflated price-tags. What emerges is a competitive price range and a selling price that may pleasantly surprise you.

Ask us for a Market Value Certificate—Something far better than an emotional opinion—a professional evaluation based on facts. Call your Neighborhood Professional™ today for complete information.
